"Transfer Tribunals – good or bad?"

During the summer, both ourselves and Bolton have been involved in dealings which have necessitated fees being settled by a transfer tribunal. Whilst we were involved on both sides of the fence – buying and selling – Bolton captured both Steve Elliott from Walsall and Mike Salmon from Stockport for reasonable fees. The sale of Lee Dixon to Stoke highlighted the fact that tribunal dealings more often than not tend to favour the buying club. We knew that Lee was worth a lot more than £40,000 – we had seen him in training, seen him playing and were in a position to judge.

When we returned as a 'buyer' some days later we were delighted with the fees which were set for Peter Butler and Liam Robinson from Huddersfield – two fine players who are both very good prospects. The inconsistency was once again highlighted though with a clause allowing Huddersfield 50% of any future transfer fee – in stark contrast with Dixon's ruling which allowed for no such future transfer clause. All in all then, we felt hard done by and even though we later discovered that the tribunal chairman had appeared with Wilf McGuinness on various Sportsman's Dinners professing his love of Huddersfield Town, there is no 'appeal' system. The chairman does not actually have a say in the matter of transfer fees but it is an embarrassing situation which should not arise. Other clubs, notably Luton and Brentford have strongly voiced disapproval over fees set during the summer with Frank McLintock calling for a ruling on how tribunals assess players' values. The PFA too want to introduce a chart based on division, age, wages, International experience and a number of different factors. Perhaps this would add a little uniformity and abolish the kind of derisory fee Brentford received for Denis Salmon – and which we would have received had Craig Madden not been sold before his contract ran out last season.

THIRD DIVISION

Close-season round up (Part One)

BLACKPOOL: Worries about their increasingly precarious financial position have dominated the seashiders' thoughts this summer. At one point the directors declared, "The club's trading position is such that its survival can only be counted in days." A council interest-free loan of £150,000 was the short-term solution although against total debts of £784,000 it is unlikely that the Blackpool officials and even players can sleep too easily. On the playing side much has been staked on last season's squad achieving success, the only significant signing being that of Colin Methven from Wigan for a tribunal fee of £21,000. The emergence of striker Richard Sendall and the signing of keeper Barry Siddall gives sea-side fans hope at opposite ends of the pitch, although the run of Lancashire Cup draws may tend to suggest another mid-table season.

BOLTON WANDERERS: Despite reaching the Freight Rover Final last season, they spent many months struggling to stay clear of the relegation zone and with the addition of just two new players it will be interesting to see if Phil Neal's faith in the majority of the squad he retained is rewarded. Bolton's pre-season wins against Fleetwood, Morecambe, Workington and Burnley give cause for optimism on the one hand but a home defeat by Wigan and draw against Preston may suggest a season full of ups and downs once again for Bolton, with neither actually being the case at the season's end. Phil Neal's search for that all-important ingredient – consistency – continues.

BOURNEMOUTH: The departure of International Colin Clarke to Southampton for £200,000 and the sale of Colin Russell to Doncaster Rovers appeared to have left a hole in AFC's squad as they prepared for the new season but the signing of Southampton striker David Puckett and Trevor Aylott from Crystal Palace for £15,000 are expected to fill the gap and match the 36 goal partnership of Clarke and Russell. New keeper Gerry Peyton (signed from Fulham) and centre-half Mark Whitlock from Southampton (part of the Clarke deal) complete a strong central line for Bournemouth, who could well prove to be the dark horse of the division.

BRENTFORD: With 34 points from their away travels last season, the Bees should have finished closer to a promotion spot. Their mediocre home record, most notably in terms of goals scored was to blame, however the summer signing of speedy Paul Canoville from Chelsea may be the key to an improved home record and ultimately second division football at Griffin Park. Despite losing midfielder Danis Salmon to Millwall, the squad has been strengthened by the arrival of midfielders Phil Bate (Bristol R) and Paul Maddy (Hereford) while Ian Holloway arrived for £25,000 from Wimbledon after a two-month loan spell last season. The attack will be led by newcomer Gary Stevens (ex-Shrewsbury) in partnership with the trusty Robbie Cooke. It looks promising for the Bees.

BRISTOL CITY: Last season's Freight Rover winners seem to be almost everyone's favourites to regain the second division status they lost back in 1981. Manager Terry Cooper has been given a 2 year extension to his existing contract – a sign of faith from the Ashton Gate directors. Cooper too, showed faith in his players retaining the majority of his squad although he allowed former Bury striker Steve Johnson to join Scunthorpe for £15,000 and winger Howard Pritchard to join Gillingham for £22,500. York centre-half John McPhail was signed to bolster an already reliable defence whilst to date offers for Leeds' David Harle and Oxford's Bryan McDermot have proved inconclusive.

BRISTOL ROVERS: The big news of the close-season concerns Rovers' departure from Eastville to take up residency at Bath City's Twerton Park ground (capacity 6,000) under a seven year lease, although the hope is to return to a new site in Bristol at the end of this period. Plans also include a plan to sell their Bristol training ground and lease it back in an effort to meet debts estimated at £342,000. Such financial constraints have meant that transfer activity inwards has been restricted to free transfer signings, most notably the acquisition of Kenny Hibbit as player-coach from Coventry. Departures have been more frequent with the loss of forward Steve White to Swindon (for financial reasons), Phil Bate to Brentford and keeper Ron Green to Scunthorpe. All in all, manager Bobby Gould has a worrying season ahead of him.

CARLISLE UNITED: New manager Harry Gregg has been trusted with the job of taking Carlisle back to Division Two at the first attempt and it is generally felt that the Cumbrians have the best chance of the three relegated clubs of achieving this. Transfer activity appears to have been minimal during the close-season with the £20,000 signing of Pompey striker Scott McGarvey being the major acquisition after scoring 3 goals in 10 appearances during a loan spell at Brunton Park last season. Ex-Peterborough winger Gary Worrall has also joined Carlisle on a free transfer.

CHESTER CITY: It has been widely reported that Chester are planning to leave their Sealand Road ground to move 300 yards down the road into Wales, thus enabling them to qualify for Europe as 'Welsh' winners of the Welsh Cup. Whether the club does or not remains to be seen as the financial benefits of such a move cannot be guaranteed and can only be limited in scope. On the playing side the club is beginning to look like Wigan 'old boys' as manager Harry McNally (ex-Wigan) has signed ex-Latics David Glenn, Billy Stewart, Gary Bennett, Peter Houghton and Graham Barrow – the latter as player-coach after a tribunal had set a fee of £6,000. Chester won promotion without the talented Stuart Rimmer last season, and although the injured star is now on the road to recovery he will join a side whose main aim must surely be consolidation.

CHESTERFIELD: Another club in financial straits, who are hoping that millionaire businessman Mike Watteson can perform a rescue operation – similar to that he performed at Derby. Chesterfield have reported debts of £650,000 and that cannot auger well for their 86/7 prospects. Last season, the Spire-ites slumped after a promising start and John Duncan will be hoping new signing Tony Coyle (free transfer from Stockport) and the evergreen Ernie Moss who has signed a further contract will help prevent a similar slump this time around. Duncan has shown interest in coloured defender Bob Hazell, Preston forward Gary Brazil and Oliver Bernadoux – a former young European footballer of the year.

DARLINGTON: 'Darlo' have kept faith in the nucleus of the squad who somewhat surprisingly finished in a mid-table position last season and they will do well to achieve a similar position this season.

Obituary

Sir Stanley Rous

(1895-1986)

Football's administrators are usually little more than extras on the set of football both at home and abroad. Every so often they perform their walk-on role e.g. F.A. Cup draws and the like; occasionally they deliver a few lines – usually when the game has given rise to controversy – but for the most part they are outstarred by the Maradonas and Peles of the world, who reap the benefits of the work done behind the scenes.

It is therefore sad to hear of the death of the one man who perhaps shared some of the glory that the playing stars enjoy. Sir Stanley's ninety-one years saw him excel at almost every level of the game. He was an accomplished goalkeeper, a highly respected referee, who refereed over 30 Internationals as well as the 1934 F.A. Cup Final between Manchester City and Portsmouth in his farewell season.

Between 1934 and 1961 he ruled the roost at Lancaster Gate as secretary of the Football Association, before moving on to become president of FIFA until he was deposed in 1974 by Joao Havelange who is the present incumbent of the "hot seat" of the world game.

Sir Stanley's first task at Lancaster Gate was to rid the old fashioned organisation of its rigid insularity. This was easier said than done as the F.A. held on to the belief that England was still the homeland of soccer and therefore the F.A. itself was the natural ruler of the game. That he eventually overcame such conceited self-esteem speaks volumes for the man. The Football Association became an enterprising, powerful voice in international football, and it was no surprise that England first competed in the World Cup Finals in 1950 under the auspices of Sir Stanley Rous.

Having set up a national coaching scheme under England manager Walter Winterbottom and maintaining club football throughout World War Two he eventually negotiated England's membership of FIFA. All this brought Sir Stanley growing prestige, especially abroad, and in 1962 he was voted president of FIFA, and thereby brought his considerable administrative skills to the world game. It is indeed fitting that during his time as president of FIFA England were to become World Champions of the game he loved.

It is ironic that Sir Stanley's death should come at a time when the "big clubs" are trying to make advances at the considerable expense of the Associate Members – most recently through the constitution of the Littlewood's Cup. Irony because Sir Stanley lost the presidency of FIFA to Joao Havelange in 1974 on the back of a promise of a brave new world for the footballing nations of the Third World. A policy which has led to the prolonged extension of the World Cup Finals to 24 teams, and the appointment of some far from competent refereeing officials. It is hard to believe that Sir Stanley would have made the same mistakes.

Despite his bitter disappointment he still remained close to the game and could be seen at at least two games a week, all over the world, virtually right up to his death on 18th July. The naming of the trophy played for by England and Scotland as the "Rous Cup" was a further well-deserved accolade to the "gentleman" of English soccer.

The story goes that on arriving at Tel Aviv airport last February for the England v. Israel friendly he explained to the press "I'm not with them (the F.A.) I am here as a guest of the Israelis." One can almost imagine the scene at the pearly gates – referring to lesser footballing persona – Sir Stanley insisting "I'm not here with them I am here as a guest of the Gods." Thank you Sir Stanley for everything you've done for this wonderful game of ours.

SNIPPETS . . .

★ The reason for the much-widened main entrance gate at Gigg Lane is quite simple . . . In our last game of 1985/6 season, the team coach driver of visiting team Brentford decided to demolish part of the wall with his expert driving.

★ Congratulations to Terry Pashley who made his 100th league appearance for Bury on Saturday at Ashton Gate against Bristol City.

★ Call at the souvenir hut today to take a look at the new lines in metal lapel badges and sweatshirts incorporating the Bury town crest as favoured once again on the players shirts this season. The 'programme reservation scheme' is once again in operation.

★ The League Cup is under the new sponsorship of the pools giants Littlewoods for the first time this season. A new name but a very old cup – the trophy dates back to 1895 when known as the Viscountess Furness Trophy, Teeside shipyard workers from the now defunct Furness Yard at Middlesbrough played for the trophy. It stands 2'9" tall, is made of solid silver and disappeared 20 years ago only to turn up for sale in a local newspaper. A silversmith purchased and restored the trophy – and it is now to become a premier British soccer trophy.

★ Food for thought perhaps, but it is exactly a year ago to the day since Bury won 4-1 against Bolton at Burnden Park. The scorers that day were Madden (2), Jakub and Young.

Bolton Wanderers— a pre-season diary

May 21st

Bolton announce increases in admission prices for 1986/7. Terrace admission of £3.00 and Seating at £4.50 will cushion the £50,000 loss through 're-distribution'.

May 24th

Bolton played at Wembley for the first time in 28 years when they lost to Bristol City 3-0 in the Freight Rover Trophy Final. A crowd of 54,502 with receipts of £286,281 gives Wanderers some consolation in the form of £100,000 profits from the competition. Loan keeper David Felgate being ineligible, Simon Farnworth appeared after three months in the wilderness.

★ Bolton's defeat at Wembly gave them their 30th consecutive game in London without success. Since Wanderers won 3-1 at QPR on 2nd December 1978 they have gained draws at Brentford and Orient but have sustained five defeats at Crystal Palace, three at Chelsea, Arsenal, Orient and QPR, two at Charlton, Brentford and Millwall and one at Spurs, West Ham, Fulham and Wimbledon.

May 24th

Chairman Neal Riley pledges Freight Rover profits and advance season ticket sales will be available for Phil Neal to purchase players. A keeper, midfielder and striker are required.

May 25th

Wanderers show interest in Lincoln midfielder Phil Turner – rated at £70,000.

May 27th

Warren Joyce back in training after hernia operation.

May 28th

Retained List announced. Free transfers given to Graham Bell, Simon Rudge, David Cross, Paul Fitzpatrick, Dean Roberts and Roger Walker. Wayne Entwistle and Simon Farnworth are on offer.

May 28th

Phil Neal, already in possession of 7 Championship medals had played 13 games during 1985/6 for Liverpool. Although a minimum 14 games are required to qualify for a medal, the League allowed an extra medal to be struck – and Phil now holds the record number of championship medals.

Phil Neale –
Record 8th League Championship Medal"

May 31st

Asa Hartford turns down the post of Player/Manager at Preston North End.

June 11th

Asa Hartford is linked with the Assistant-Managers job at Portsmouth.

June 18th

Bolton show interest in Phil Turner of Lincoln again. Steve White of Bristol Rovers is also chased.

June 24th

Chairman Neal Riley resigns and former-chairman George Warburton takes over.

July 16th

An ultimatum is issued to unsettled star Warren Joyce, who eventually re-signs.

Steve Elliott –
£25,000 Capture

July 24th

Wanderers sign striker Steve Elliott from Walsall for a £25,000 fee and goalkeeper Mike Salmon from Stockport County after a transfer tribunal sets fees which Phil Neal is happy with, but upset the selling clubs. When Bolton Manager Phil Neal asked for 24 hours in order to consult his directors regarding the Elliott fee, Walsall manager Alan Buckley (soon to be sacked!) stormed, "He shouldn't have to wait 24 seconds before signing a quality goalscorer for that kind of fee. How can I replace him with £25,000?".

July 26th

Simon Rudge joins Hyde United

July 30th

First pre-season friendly ends in a 2-0 success at Morecambe.

The released defender Sam Allardyce joins Preston North End.

August 1st

In view of the redevelopment planned at Burnden Park for the building of a supermarket, Bolton announce that the new season will commence without the use of the famous railway embankment terracing. Two floodlight pylons are to be moved, the embankment eventually disappearing altogether. Away supporters will be re-located in 1986/7 season on the Burnden Terrace in a special visitors' section.

August 2nd

A 2-1 win at Fleetwood Town is marred by unpleasant crowd scenes which attract much unwanted publicity.

August 5th

Bolton win another pre-season game – 3-0 at Workington. Defender Mark Came is hampered by a knee injury.

* The Littlewoods Cup – formerly the League and Milk Cup – began in season 1960/61 and it is somewhat amazing that it has taken 26 seasons before the draw at last throws out a Bury-Bolton cup clash. An ironic pairing too when the two clubs have once again recommenced League meetings after an absence of sixteen seasons.

Quiz Answers:

1. Bristol City (7).
2. "Crazy Horse".
3. Steau Bucharest (Rumania).
4. Wales and Lichenstein.
5. Dunfermline Athletic.
6. Derek Spence.
